was asked to-day about destitution among South Dakota farmers. He said: "Yes, there is destitution in South Dakota. reports to the contrary notwithstanding. And, what is more, I can't see the wisdom of attempting to cover up these facts. The exreflence is one common to the settlement of and in destitute circumstances, resulting from the drought which has prevailed in these parts, more or less, for the past three seasons.

"In Brown county the southeastern part had a fairly good crop; the rest is in most destitute circumstances. Then there are Marshall, Mc-Pherson, Campbell, Walworth, Edwards, and Spink, These counties are all in bed shape, county we have an organization of some sixteen townships, with a representative in each township, through whom we distribute all we

A movement is in progress among the members sleet of the Legislature looking to abeliahing many of the State offices in the interest of sconomy. The finances of South Dakota see in bad shape. Warrants on the Treasurer remain unpaid and the expense continues greater than the revenue. Independents and Democrata will control the State Legislature, and they prepose to abeliat the offices of Commissioners of Immigration, Railroad Commissioners, State Vetarinary Surgeon, and to ent off the militia appropriation and reduce the legislature excenses from $185,000 to $75,000 for the session.

An effort also will be made to reduce the presentation to about 100 members. The Legislature now contains 165 members, a greater number than many of the wealthy states pressess.

Wichtra Kan., Dec. 8,—J. G. McCoy, agent in charge of the enumeration of range cattle, says that the returns so far show that in the rain regions the cattle lands had decreased and in the rainless regions the sheep boom had driven out cattle to a large extent. While the last census showed over 18,000,000 head of cattle, this would possibly not show ever 10,-000,000, and while it showed 19,000,000 sheep, this census would likely show 28,000,000. The hog ranches had possibly 4,000,000 hogs, while the last census showed double that number.

The Oklahoma country is covered with snow from two to live inches deep. The demand for aid increases from the poor settlers. Of the 847,000 appropriated by the Government for the benefit of the poor there remains scarcely $15,000. The Committee on Supplies handling this money has reached here. The members report that they do not want to say the situation is slarming, but they have by no means enough to supply food and clothing for the poor. Aid must come, or the suffering will be intense.

Grann Forks, N. D., Dec. 8—The Chamber of Gommerce and the Business Men's Association have administered a severe rebuke to Congressman Hansbrough for introducing a resolution in Congress asking for an appropriation of $500,000 for destitute clitzens of North Dakota when the six counties of the Red River valley alone in the State raised during the crop season of 1890 $5,000,000 bushels of wheat, besides other cereals, and have loaned to wheat buyers of Minnearolis and Duluth $400,000 during the raise date that North Dakota is able to provide for all its needy and protest against the adoption of the Hansbrough resolution.

WARHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The Supreme Court of the United States, in an opinion by Justice Harlan to-day, affirmed the judgment of the Southern District of New York in the case of agt the United States. This was a suit brought by the United States to recover from the bank certain moneys alleged to be due for taxes on profits' made by the bank in 1866-70, the taxes being assessed under the act of 1864, levying a tax of 5 per cent. on all dividends declared by banks, insurance, and other incorporated concerns. The principal question was whether or not the bank could be taxed on 5 per cent. of its dividends, which, under a State statute, it had to reserve out of any dividends declared and turn over to the State as a tax on its business. The court answers this question in the affirmative, and also rules that the bank was liable to tax on the full amount of dividends declared, regardiess of the fact that the dividends were not carned, a subsequently discovered defalcation changing the bank's supposed financial condition.

MEADVILLE, Pa., Dec. 8 .- Reports continue the collapse of Delamater & Co.'s bank. A the collapse of Delamater & Co.'s bank. A banker of the city says a cautious estimate of the total limbilities will not be less than $500.000. It may reach $500.000. The whole city is restless and excited. The merchants, even those who have not lost directly, say the damage to their trade will be considerable, as so many private individuals had deposits in the bank. The creditors do not expect to realize more than 50 cents on the dollar.

GOING TO INVESTIGATE GLEASON.

Thirty-five former saloon keepers of Long newed at the opening of this year immediately have been subpænsed as witnesses before the Queens county Grand Jury now in session in Long Island City. It is said the Grand Jury will begin an examination to-day into the will begin an examination to-day into the affairs of the Excise Board of that dity, and that these salcon keepers are expected to tall what they know about getting licenses.

Immediately following his rediction Mayor Gleason announced that he would begin a crysade against salcons in Long Island City. He began, it is said, by outting off the heads of the salcon keepers who were active in opposing his reflection. He said there were too many salcons in the city. In the mean time his Board of Excise met, and as fast as the Mayor would decapitate one salcon keeper the Board, it is said, would grant a license to another man. It is declared, in proof of this, that there are now quite as many, if not more, salcons in Long Island City than there were before the Mayor reform. To one of them a license was refused, and a license was refused to a tenant of the other. It is alleged that some of the witnesses will testify that they knew of money being successfully used in securing licenses. Mayor Gleason says he is ready for any investigation the Grand Jury may make.

The Republicans of New York, Brooklyn. Jersey City, and Hoboken, it appears, are not to get the Custom House cartage plums as soon as they thought. The Secretary of the Treasury has directed Collector Erhardt to subdivide the cartage contracts into four districts— New York. Brooklyn. Jersey City, and Hoboken. New York. Brooklyn. Jersey City, and Hoboken. But the Secretary has omitted to state whether the lowest bidder for the contracts shall have all four of the districts. In the letter sent by the Collector it was suggested that the districts be divided also as to the lowest bidder, but this suggested has not been considered, and further information has been requested from Washington. It was thought yesterday that the Secretary would recognize the importance of having the districts divided as to the holder of the contracts. This, of course, would strongthen the G. O. P. further in the matter of patronage.

An application of The Lawyers' Title Insurance Company for a writ of mandamus to comemployees to copy the records in his office, was made in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, several days ago. Mr. Kane answered that the company's clerks overran the office, monopolized the records, and retarded public business.
Yesterday Justice Cullen decided that the Register might make all the regulations necessary to secure the rights of citizens in the prosecution of business in his office, but asserted that Mr. Kane went too far if he sought to prevent the company's employees from obtaining information or abstracts from the books for any lawful purposs. All that he could do was to see that the public business was not obstructed. "The number of persons

Miss Chester Says Miss Wells Bit Ker. The encounter between Actress Kittle Wells and Flora Chester, which occurred in a dressing room at Tony Pastor's Theatre, was described by both sides in the Tombs Police Court yesterday, where Miss Chester made a charge of assault against Miss Wells. She said that Miss Wells atruck her without provocation, and that when she put her hand forward to protect herself, Miss Wells hit her on the linger, the arm, and the right ear. Miss Wells said that Miss Chester was the argressor. The defendant was paroled for examination. George Murphy, the variety comedian, married Kittle Wells in 1832. Be says that when he learned that she had been separated from the bird imitator. Joseph Slowman, and that the court had forbidden her to remarry he got advorce. He and Miss Chester were married last March.

A Schoolboy Hurt in a Pire Drill.

The guardian of Johnny O'Connel wants $10,000 from the city for damages inflicted upon his ward. This comes about through an accident at a fire brigade drill. O'Connel is a accident at a fire brigade drill. O'Connel is a pupil in the public school in 104th street, near Tenth avenue. On Sept. 10 the children were put through a fire drill. The teacher, carrying out her part, left the room. One of the boys climbed up to fix the ventilator, as his part of the programme. He tugged away at the chains, which were twisted, and succeeded in bringing the ventilator down. It struck John any O'Connel on the head. He was taken home and came very near death before recovering partially. The doctor says he will never recover entirely. The guardian claims that the ventilator was not properly fastened.

Patima to the Baby's Name. After casting about for seven weeks the hit upon a name for the girl hippopotamus which came that long ago to bless the lives of which came that long ago to blees the lives of Caliph and Miss Murphy. All sorts of names were suggested. Most of the keepers were in favor of some Irish name suggestive of the name of the mother. But there was a vigorous protest against this, and the keepers were at sea. Finally one of them thought of Fatima, which is Oriental, and, through the "Arabian Nights," is associated in every one's mind with Caliph. Besides, when it is abbreviated to Fatty it will be manifestly appropriate.
